POWERS TAKES THE STAND. TESTIFIES IN HIS OWN BEHALF

Admits That He Brought the Mountaineers to Frankfort-He Denies the Incriminating Conversations in Which Other Witnesses Said He Had Participated-His Story. GEORGETOWN, Ky., July 30 .- Caleb Powers went on the witness stand in his own behalf to-day in his trial for the murder of William Goebel and admitted that he had been the chief man in bringing the armed mountain-eers to Frankfort. He admitted that he had talks with Culton and had gone to various places with Golden, but denied the suspicious conversations attributed to him by these and other witnesses. It was considered a bold game for him to play to admit so much and then deny the vital part of the conversations, as his admitted association and intimacy with the men may taint his testimony in the minds

The courtroom was crowded with women to-day who seemed anxious to get a look at the equest of ex-Gov. Brown, the jury retired, and he moved the Court to give peremptory instructions to the jury acquitting the defendant. Neither side argued the motion and the Court at once overruled it. E. D. Faulkner, the Barbourville attorney, made the state-ment of the case for the defendant to the jury,

"It was not of the defendant's choosing that the Commonwealth made this a political trial rather than a trial as to his guilt or innocence of the charges against him in the indictment. We expect to show that if the Grand Jury that found this indictment had any evidence as to the man who fired the shot they concealed it and his name still remains a secret. We will show that the prosecution has never intended to bring to light the identity of the man who did fire the shot. Taking advantage of your political sympathies counsel for the Commonwealth have sought to show the contest for the offices was a mere civil suit, but we will show that the Judges and jury (the Legislature) had in advance expressed their opinion as to how it was to be decided and nothing was left to chance or the testimony. The contest for the Governorship before the Legislature had nothing to do with Powers's contest for Secretary of State, which was to be tried before the State Election Commission.

Powers and Finley did bring the mountain men to Frankfort on Jan. 25, but they came peacefully, acted peacefully, while there, and returned home peacefully. A few of the men remained in Frankfort on advice of counsel for

Mr. Powers was was not in his office on Jan. 30 and had all the keys that he knew of to his office in his possession on that day.

"The witness Golden knew why Powers went to Louisville that day, but he did not disclose it. We will show you that the witness Weaver was never in Frankfort till yesterday. We will show you that Finley Anderson is a liar for revenue only and that Robert Noakes conspired with the prosecution to have himself arrested. "George Page, H. F. Van Sant, F. W. Cecil and H. H. Howard were present at that meeting. W. H. Culton was there part of the time. I don't think I said 'the Legislature will be given thirty minutes to settle the contest after we get here.' I don't recollect saving it and I am sure I did not say it. I said something about the dangers of people along the line derailing our special train or throwing the train off a bridge, but I did not say we have burned the bridges behind us. I think we had about 1,000 men in the train. I went through the train twice and admonished the men to keep sober and quiet, as ours was a peacable mission.

the train twice and admonished the men to keep sober and quiet, as ours was a peacable mission.

"When we set to Frankfort there was no disorder and they held a quiet meeting in the State House vard. Most of the men went home that night, but I had nothing to do with the selecting those that remained. I was not at the meeting that decided to send the men home. I heard about it and went to see Gov. Taylor and found him at the Governor's mansion. He said the presence of the man was having a bad effect on the Legislature, as the Brown Democrats, who had been for him, were threatening to leave him if the armed men remained.

"I went to my boarding-house that afternoon and had no such conversations with Robert Noakes as he detailed in his testimony. I don't remember to have seen Noakes that day. On Jan. 28 I went to Lexington but returned and was in Frankfort on Monday, Jan. 29. C. O. Reynolds, W. H. Cullom and myself went out to see Clay Elkin in Lexington on Sunday to talk about the Van Meter-Berry contest.

went out to see Clay Elkin in Lexington on Sunday to talk about the Van Meter-Berry contest.

"On the morning of Jan. 29 I went up to the hotel to see Gen. Duke about taking the men back to Frankfort, but he was not in. While I was there my brother and Wharton Golden did come into the hotel, but I had no private conference with my brother. I probably did tell Golden I could not go to Louisville that day, as was intended, as I had not arranged for the transportation of men. When we returned to the State House I did meet Mr. Youtsey in the hall as stated by Golden, but Bothing was said about a key to my office. I beckoned to Mr. Todd and told him I did not want Youtsey in my office and Todd went out in the hall to talk to him. Later in the day I telephoned to Mr. Johnson in Louisville of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad to ges two coaches to carry the men back home.

"Treasurer Day, W. J. Davidson and I had a conversation in the afternoon of the 29th as to bringing another lot of petitioners from Western Kentucky. We did not decided on it, but had another meeting in my office the next morning and decided to bring another lot of men, Lon Butler, of Butler, came in while we were there and he was selected as a good man to get the crowd together, and I was to go to Louisville that day to see about transportation and getting money to pay for the same.

"Gov, Taylor that morning gave me the slip of paper that was taken from me when I was arrested containing the words: 'Mr. Powers is our friend, W. S. Taylor.' I was to give this slip to Leslie Combs, the Pension Agent at Louisville, who was in charge of the fund collected to pay expenses of the contest, and he would give me the money. That is why I went to Louisville Tuesday morning."

At 3:50 o'clock Judge Cantrill adjourned court until to-morrow, when Powers will resume.

SHOT DEAD BY A DETECTIVE. Man Who Had Lured a Girl Away Killed b

the Man Who Arrested Him. READING, Pa., July 30.-The abductor of welve-year-old girl was shot dead near Lebanon this morning by the detective who had run him down. Fritz Ziegler is the name of the iternant German pedler who received bullet in his heart. He was about 33 years old. Ziegler was in Pottsville a few weeks ago, and calling on John G. Harter succeeded n inducing him to allow his twelve-year-old daughter Katie to go with him to assist him in cleaning house at his home in the country Ziegler said his wife was at home and the girl would be well cared for. She was allowed to go, with the understanding that in a few days she was to return home again. Ziegler took the girl away. That was the last seen of her. She did not return home and the Harters became apprehensive. Harter employed Detective Otto Borsher of Pottsville to trace the missing girl. The detective and a brother of the girl set out into the country and soon learned that Ziegler and his wife try and soon learned that Ziegler and his wife and the girl had left for parts unknown. They traced them from farm to farm, over hill and dale, and finally, after a week of tramping they found that they had been at a farmhouse in South Annville township, owned by Ed. Shraefler, near Fontana, where they had begged for a night's lodging in the barn.

The detective caught up to the missing people on Sunday night. A watch was kept on the premises and early this morning Ziegler was placed under arrest, the girl having admitted her identity and having said that she had been coaxed away. Ziegler appeared to be willing to accompany the detective, but after going a short distance he broke away and ran back to the barn. He was recaptured and while the detective was placing the handcuffs on him Ziegler again got away, and drawing a huse knile stood at bay, daring the detective to arrest him. Ziegler was standing on an elevated place and suddenly made a rush for Borsher with a large stone in one hand and the knile in the other. Seeing that he was likely to be hurt, Borsher, in self-defence, quickly drew his revolver and fired at Ziegler, the ball piercing his heart. He fell back dead. The body was removed to the farmhouse to await the Coroner.

The detective was placed under arrest by a deputy sheriff and entered bail in $1,000, for a hearing on Thursday, The widow of Ziegler was locked up, charged with being an accomplice to the kidnapping. The others were retained as witnesses. The girl says she was lured away and did not know what they wanted with her, but they had promised to bring her back home. It is thought they wanted to keep the girl to work for them.

DR. TALMAGE AND THE CZAR. The Preacher Cables Home to Tell of an Inter view With Russian Royalty. The following cable despatch from the Rev T. De Witt Talmage was given out by the Christian Herald yesterday for publication:

Moscow, July 30. Since arriving in Russia, I have had the honor of three interviews with royalty: i.e., with the Emperor, the Empress and the Dowager Empress. I found the Emperor in the enjoyment of splendid health physically. He told me that Russia is at peace with all the world, notwithstanding the present troubles in China.

He expressed the greatest interest in our revenue only and that Robert Noakes conspired with the prosecution to have himself arrested. Wharton Golden, we will show, it a perjurer, who has a contract to divide with some one else whatever is raised from the rearrest of the property of the provention of the coming Presidential election, and talked as one

The Empress is slightly taller than her husband, and radiantly beautiful. She expresses her opinions without reserve. I talked with the royal wife and daughters as freely as though I were conversing with my own sisters. The Dowager Empress does not look a day older than when I saw her last. She smilingly reminded me of the flowers which she sent my family when I was in Russia eight years ago, and indicated the spot where she then stood with her children. Her beautiful eyes filled with tears and her voice trembled as she referred to the loss of her husband, her son and her mother.

Dead as the Result of Injuries. of Fairmount township, the aged farmer who was tortured by robbers several weeks ago, died last night. He never recovered from the fright and the injuries of the assault. His wife, fright and the injuries of the assault. His wife, who was also tortured, is in a precarious condition. The robbers secured about $30. Mahel Tubbs, 10 years old, a neighbor's girl, who lived with them, heard the racket downstairs, crawled out of a window, made her way down a tree to the ground and ran in her nightgown three-quarters of a mile to the nearest house and aroused several men. They met the robbers in the road and a fusiliade followed, one of the robbers being wounded.

RATHBONE OUT ON BAIL. RELEASED LAST NIGHT, A SPANIARD

GOING ON HIS BOND. nor Lopez Dtd Not Know Him. but Was Willing to Help an American Who Was So Well Recommended by His Friends—A Span-

lard Cashes a Forged $10,000 Check. Special Cab'e Despatch to THE SUN. HAVANA, July 30. - Ex-Director of Posts Rathone was released on ball at 7 o'clock this evening, bonds for the required amount, $25,000, having been given by Senor Lopez, a Spaniard. The Judge thoroughly examined the documents presented by Senor Lopez.

There is much talk among Americans con cerning the fact that three Spaniards should have offered to go on in badi bonds. Rathbone has secured Señores Lanuza and Desvernine, who were Secretaries under Gen. Brooke, as his counsel. They had previously filed a motion in court for lowering the amount of bail and also a motion that the bail offered by Senor Gamba should be accepted. The Judge wrote to the police officer in charge of the vivae asking why the order for the removal of Rathbone to the carcel had not been carried out. A reply was sent that Acting Governor General Scott had ordered that he remain in the vivae owing to the fact that the carcel was not as healthy as the vivac. It was not believed by many that Rathbo would succeed in procuring the large bail demanded, but Senor Lopez, who did not know him, expressed himself as being willing to help

A forged check for $10,000 was recently paid by the North American Trust Company. The man who presented it was a Spaniard. An investigation was set on foot which showed that the man belonged to a regular gang of forgers and counterfeiters of coin, some of whom are now under arrest.

NEW OBLEANS, La., July 30 .- Peace and order being fully restored, Mayor Capedevellie this

The negroes, most of whom had been idle since last Wednesday, returned to their work and were not interfered with, Mayor Capedeveille has given notice to those who suffered losses from the late riots that under the new constitution the city is not responsible for damages inflicted by a mob, and will pay none of the losses except in the case of the house where Charles was hiding, and which was partly burned down to drive him out. This exception is made because the fire was started under the instructions of the authorities. All losses on that account will be yesterday to the Kings County Penitentiary for six months. He was committed as a vagrant at his own request by Magistrate Brenner of the Adams street court in Brooklyn. He said he had used every possible effort to get employment of some kind but had failed, and as there seemed nothing left for him but to steal he desired to be put away. This is how he philosophized: "I do not want to be a pauper. I have no use for suicides, and I prefer not to be a criminal." He said his only bad habit is smoking and that he has never been intoxicated.

REAL ESTATE NEWS.

9. Goldsticker has sold for the Mather estate to Jacob F. and Joseph F. Cullman the six-story apartment house, on a plot 52.2x100, at the southeast corner of Fifth avenue and Eightyfifth street. The purchase is for investment, and though the buyers will make some alter-ations and improvements, the general character of the building will not be changed. The house was erected ten years ago, when the future of this section of Fifth avenue was a matter of speculation, and is the only apartment house between Fifty-ninth and Eightyfifth streets. There are two suites on each of five floors, and three on the sixth. The rents range from $1,100 to $1,800 a suite. The gross rental is $18,000. E. A. Cruikshank & Co. and J. D. Mason were the brokers in the sale of Nos. 8 and 10 Broadway, at the northeast corner of Beaver street, for Courtlandt, Helen C. and F. R. Irving to the New York Produce Exchange Bank, The plot fronts about fifty feet on Broadway and thirty-five on Beaver street, and forms part of the site of the five-story building occupied by the New York Central Railroad. The ground lease on Nos. 8 and 10 Broadway, which is held by Hamilton McK. Twombly, a director of the railroad company, expires in 1904, without privilege of renewal. The bank has also been negotiating for No. 12 Broadway, owned by the Morris estate, and obtained an option of purchase which lapsed unexercised on July 18. Mr. Twombly, whose lease on the ground at No. 12 expires also in 1904, but with privilege of renewel for twenty-one years being in Europe, it was impossible to secure an extinguishment of his interest, upon which a purchase was dependent. It is likely that nego-tiations will be resumed on Mr. Twombly's return. In any event the bank will erect a twelve-story building, preliminary plans for which have been drawn by Harding & Gooch. The purchase price for Nos. 8 and 10 was $250,-
